Signia Wealth continue expansion with office move

("Signia Wealth")

London, 15th September 2010, Signia Wealth Ltd, the independent, multi-client family office looking after the wealth management needs of Ultra High Net Worth ("UHNW") clients has today moved its operations from the City to the West End of London.

The office move follows an impressive start to Signia Wealth's business operations, since inception in March this year, gaining over thirty clients and increasing headcount to nineteen people. The new office address is:

One Connaught Place
London
W2 2ET

Nathalie Dauriac-Stoebe, CEO of Signia Wealth, commented:

"I am very pleased that we are an expanding presence in a highly competitive industry. The move enables us to continue to facilitate the needs of our clients, build on our growing reputation and increase our client base and accommodates our on-going personnel requirements. We look forward to settling in to our new premises and continuing the growth of Signia Wealth."

Notes to Editors:Signia Wealth

Signia Wealth is a new, independent and entrepreneurially led wealth manager. Following the events of 2008 and the banking crisis, Signia Wealth was established in March 2010 as an alternative to the traditional wealth management model. Since launch, Signia Wealth has gained over £1bn in assets under supervision. Signia Wealth aims to meet client demand by providing market leading innovative solutions, transparency and a dynamic approach to private client wealth management.

Biographies:Nathalie Dauriac-Stoebe - CEO

Nathalie established Signia Wealth after leaving Coutts & Co where she spent nine years. Nathalie was a Senior Client Partner and founding member of the Coutts Private Office where she led the team looking after the bank's Ultra High Net Worth international clients, especially UK resident non-domiciled individuals. Prior to joining Coutts & Co, Nathalie worked in Mergers & Acquisitions at Lazard & Co.
